

Please review Documents Required for Traveling to Canada for business.

Documents you must have at the border into Canada:

- a passport or travel document that is valid for your entire stay and guarantees re-entry to your country of origin
- if applicable, a valid temporary resident visa
- letters of support from your parent company and a letter of invitation from the Canadian host company
- other documents such as warranty or service agreements, contracts, etc. if relevant to the visit
- 24-hour contact details of your business host in Canada and
- proof that you have enough money for both your stay in Canada and your return home.

The Canadian Border Service Agency can deny entry for not complying with these requirements.
